

Michael D. Brier Joins Rubin and Rudman's Boston Office

Boston (June 19, 2017) – Rubin and Rudman LLP is pleased to announce that Michael D. Brier has joined its Boston office as the newest member of its litigation practice group.

Michael has obtained numerous positive outcomes for clients in a wide variety of business and employment disputes. He routinely represents clients in both state and federal courts, as well as before Massachusetts administrative agencies.

“We continue to expand our litigation practice and Michael Brier is an excellent addition to the team,” says Michael F. Connolly, Partner and Co-Chair, Litigation Department at Rubin and Rudman. His background in complex business litigation and employment disputes is complemented by his hands-on experience as an Assistant District Attorney and Superior Court law clerk. We are very excited to have him on board.”

A skilled and versatile attorney, Michael routinely works on both the plaintiffs' and defense sides of a case. Recently, he has successfully handled a number of employment-related business disputes, such as claims for misappropriation of trade secrets, covenants not to compete, claims under the Massachusetts Wage Act, and claims of employment discrimination.

Prior to entering private practice, Michael worked as an Assistant District Attorney in Essex County, trying more than forty cases to verdict and winning convictions against defendants for a number of violent crimes. He then worked for several years at a Boston-based litigation boutique.

A graduate of Boston College Law School and Princeton University, Michael is an active member of the Boston Bar Association and enjoys volunteering as judge at Boston College Law School's Moot Court and Mock Trial programs. He has also published several articles on legal and business related topics, most recently “Litigation Settlements: Don't Forget the Tax Aspects,” which appeared in Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly in October 2016.

About Rubin and Rudman LLP. Founded almost a century ago, Rubin and Rudman is a full- service law firm with nearly 100 lawyers in Boston and Washington, DC and on Cape Cod, Massachusetts. With a diverse mix of practices, Rubin and Rudman serves national and international companies, including large public companies and closely held businesses; energy companies; real estate developers; biotechnology, pharmaceutical and medical device makers; regulated industries, public entities and municipalities; educational and other institutions; and high net worth individuals.

###